Dear Glenn,

I want to complement you and your staff on the superb job you did at the CSUSB Fundraiser held in my home this month. The food was delicious, hot and dinner was on time. Feeding almost 200 hundred people is not an easy task but you made everything run smoothly without incident. We have received many positive comments regarding the catering at this Event and your efforts were greatly appreciated.

Your close attention to our concerns and worries made working with you a true pleasure. I would highly recommend your catering service. Please feel free to use my name as a reference and have prescriptive clients call us for our glowing praises.

Sincerely,

Neale A. Perkins

Helping Students Reach Their Goals

Neale and Patricia Perkins (left) celebrated higher education with Dr. Albert Karnig, president of Cal State San Bernardino, at their annual "Pinecones to Pineapples" fund-raising dinner. This year's casual barbecue, catered by Creative Catering by Glenn, was an invitation-only affair that raised more than $30,000 in scholarship funds. To date more than 190 scholarships have helped send mountain students to Cal State San Bernardino; several of the recipients attended the event and spoke about how their lives have been changed by the generosity of the supporters. The guests bid on both silent and live auction items, including a week at a Maui condo, an NBC tour with emcee Fritz Coleman, fine art, wine jewelry, a round of golf at the Lake Arrowhead Country Club, a flight and luncheon at London Bridge in Arizona and a plethora of gift certificates to local businesses. "Our community and fund-raising committee really went all out in support of this worthy cause," Neale Perkins said, "and I am extremely grateful to each and every one of them."
